CMIN SHORT SELLERS

Starting in 007 short sellers have actively shorted CMIN. Shorts are consistently continuing this activity and becoming more aggressive, which warrants close investigation. Buyins.net will report the results of its surveillance on a monthly basis.

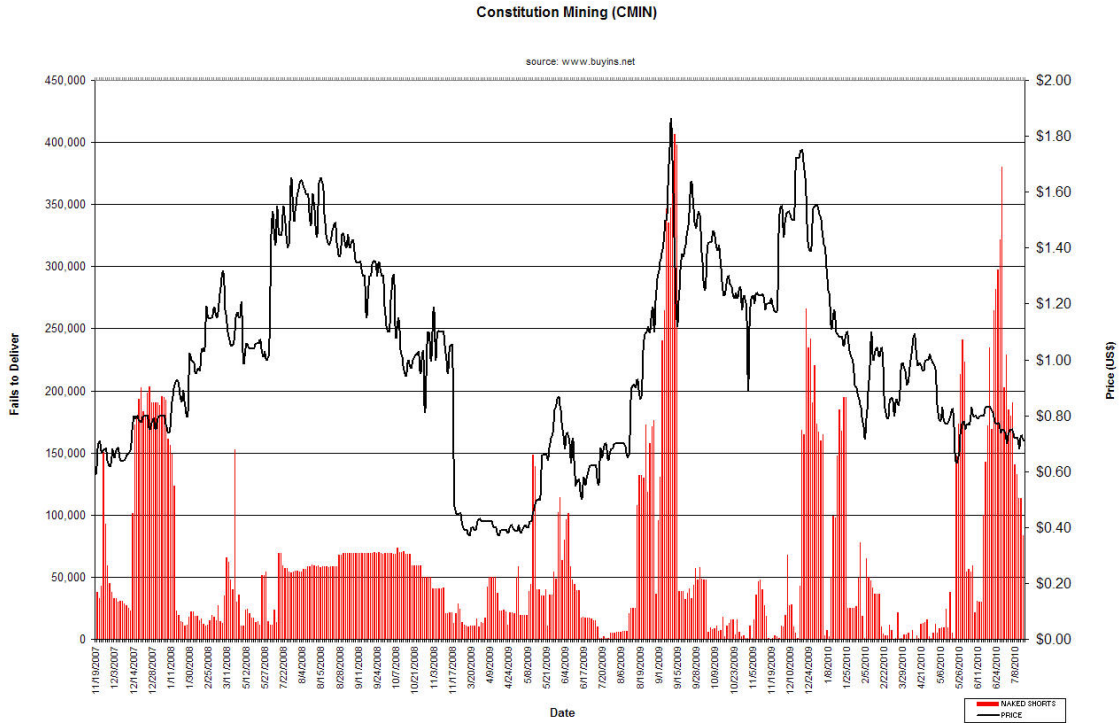

OVERVIEW OF CMIN SHORT SALE DATA

After careful analysis of CMIN short sale, naked short sale and market maker friction factor data it is clear that CMIN has persistently had issues with short sellers who have been aggressive over the past several years. Short sellers have been building a sizable position in shares of CMIN and market makers have made a bearish market lately. New evidence of daily short sellers shorting shares of CMIN has now come to light as the SEC has finally given Buyins.net access to DAILY short sale data which is updated every night. Protecting CMIN from abusive shorting is a high priority.

DAILY FAILURE TO DELIVER DATA (NAKED SHORTS) IN CMIN

Failures to Deliver in CMIN has been a significant issue as short sellers have failed to deliver consistently. CMIN is currently on the Naked Short List. Buyins.net will continue to monitor and report short sellers for non-compliance with Regulation SHO requirements.

NEW DAILY SHORT SALE TRADING VOLUME STARTING 8-3-09

Shorts have been consistently shorting CMIN on a daily basis. An average of 36% of daily trading volume is short selling.

Friction Factor determines if there is normal or abnormal behavior in the price action of the stock when compared to the buying vs. selling trading statistics. It calculates number of net shares of buying or selling to move price +/- one cent.

Here is how to understand Friction Factor:

1. If Friction Factor is positive, more buying than selling caused CMIN's price to rise
2. If Friction Factor is negative, more selling than buying caused CMIN's price to fall
3. If Friction Factor is 0, there was no discernable activity either way
4. If Friction Factor is abnormal, it means that there is either a bearish bias or a bullish bias to how market makers are making market in your stock.
